TABLOID REVIEW OF WILSON'S CAREER

PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON

Born December 28, 1856, in Staunton Va. Scotch-Irish descent. Son of Joseph Ruggles Wilson and Jessie Woodrow.

1875—Entered Princeton University. Became interested in history and defects in American system of government.

1879—Graduated from Princeton. Took course in law at University of Virginia. Rested with parents a year at Wilmington, N. C.

1882—Began practice of law in Atlanta, Ga.

1883—Met Miss Ellen Louise Axson, whom he afterward married.

1885—Student at Johns Hopkins University. Married on June 24.

1888—Teacher of political economy and history at Wesleyan University, Connecticut.

1890—Professor of jurisprudence and politics at Princeton University. Author of many books, including "History of the American People."

1902—President of Princeton University. Established preceptorial system, which took care of the students' spare time. Attempted to break up cliques in colleges and have students commingle in dormitories. Plan finally rejected by trustees, after being accepted.

1910—Became candidate for Governor of New Jersey, being taken up by James Smith, Jr., in Democratic year. Elected by almost 50,000 majority.

1911—Blocked Smith's design to get into the United States Senate. Stood for primary system. Called "ingrate" by Croker. Denounced by James R. Nugent, of New Jersey, as "liar and ingrate."

1912—Nominated for President of the United States after heated fight in Democratic convention, Wm. J. Bryan quitting, Clark at a crucial moment and throwing his strength toward the New Jersey Governor.

1913—Inaugurated President. Began to deliver messages to Congress instead of having them read by a Congress clerk. Pushed thru Congress Tariff Bill, lowering schedules and making wool, and many other things free, with sugar free in three years. Demanded repeal of Panama Canal tolls clause. Congress acceded to request.

1914—Congress passed and President signed Federal Reserve Bill, Anti-Trust Bill, and similar measures passed. Continued struggle to get rid of Huerta. Finally succeeded when dictator abdicated.

1915—Had controversy with Germany regarding submarine attacks on ships. As result of notes Germany promised not to torpedo ships without warning nor any neutrals unless they carried contraband of war.

1915—Married second time, December 18, to Mrs. Edith Galt, of Washington.

1916—Re-nominated for presidency. Controversy with Carranza regarding American troops in Mexico. Trouble averted.

1916—Re-elected President of the United States.

BIG YIELD.

Will Collins, a tenant on the H. H. Overley lands of Dr. J. B. Woods, raised twenty-three bushels of potatoes on less than one-tenth an acre of land. This product at prevailing retail prices would realize $55.20, or at the rate of $552 per acre.—Mt. Olivet Democrat.

SENATOR CAMDEN ILL.

Senator Camden, of Versailles, who recently underwent a severe but successful operation in New York, is said to be a very sick man. He came home a few days before the election to vote for Wilson and intended to go to Hot Springs, Arkansas, immediately after the election, but was taken ill and went to bed. The Senator has been progressing nicely since the operation and many friends throughout the country sincerely hope his setback will be of short duration. Senator Camden was appointed to the United States Senate by Governor McCreary to fill out the unexpired term of Senator Bradley, Republican, who died in office.

KENTUCKY CROPS FINE.

Washington, Nov. 10.—Based on 100 per cent as an average crop, the Department of Agriculture Thursday estimated combined yield of all Kentucky crops this year at 102.5 per cent, 2.5 above average. The Department estimates that this year's Kentucky corn crop at 104,272,000 bushels, against 114,000,000 last year and a 5-year average of 94,125,000.

Quality is rated 88 per cent against 90 last year. The Department also officially estimates Kentucky's tobacco crop to be 435,600,000 pounds against 356,400,000 last year and a five-year average (1910-14) of 345,600,000. The yield of Kentucky tobacco is estimated at 900 pounds against a ten-year average of 846. Quality is rated 94 against 84 in 1915.

SUIT FILED FOR $180,000.

Attorneys Henry Watson and Lewis Apperson, of Mt. Sterling, and Kelly Kash, of Jackson, filed suit late Thursday in the Estill Circuit Court against the W. L. Marum and the United States Oil Company, a Kentucky corporation, and W. R. Thompson, J. L. Young, Jr., trustees; C. J. Williams and Norwood Johnson, operators, claiming $180,000 for oil alleged to have been taken from a tract of 50 acres of land on Cow Creek in Estill oil fields. It is alleged that the company has taken out the oil on an illegal lease and the suit was brought for the heirs of the late John C. Curtis, who claim to be the owners of the property.

THE DAY OF THE BILLIONAIRE.

When a really serious effort was made in 1855 to list the rich men in New York City, just 27 millionaires were reported. And Wm. M. Astor led the lines with $6,000,000. P. T. Barnum was credited with $800,000. August Belmont, with $250,000; was Nelson Vanderbilt had $1,500,000; Alex T. Stewart, $2,000,000. Of the 12,000 millionaires listed in the United States in 1914, just less than sixty years later, 4,000 were credited to New York. And today we have news of the beginning in this city of the billion-dollar class, John D. Rockefeller being the first in order. Mr. Rockefeller, an amazing example of how wealth accumulates, represents in his single person more than 90 times the combined riches of the millionaires of 1855.—New York World.

MUST NOT YAWN—IN CHURCH.

At Lexington last Wednesday, Henry Hipshire paid $20 in county court for his lack of constraint while Pastor Bottom was working up his peroration in the course of a sermon at the old Union church, Loradale, two weeks ago. As the congregation hung spellbound on the words of the minister, the jury was told, Hipshire wearily abandoned himself to an abysmal yawn. It wasn't a yawn on the narrow definition, the jury was told. It was more of a cross between a sigh, a groan and a yawn. There was such a tinge of distaste and aggressiveness in it, it is said, that Hipshire was both ejected and arrested. "Disturbing public worship" was the charge filed in the county court on which the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

GRANT E. LILLY, JR.

AFTER A BRIEF ILLNESS PASSES AWAY AT THE GOOD SAMARITAN HOSPITAL IN LEXINGTON.

"A little touch of nature makes the whole world akin."

This beautiful expression was truly verified when the sad news reached this city from Lexington Monday night, conveying the intelligence that Grant E. Lilly, Jr., had died at the Good Samaritan Hospital in that city at 7:15 o'clock. About ten days previously the little fellow became seriously ill at his home on Lancaster avenue and was taken to Lexington incidentally for the purpose of having an operation performed for peritonitis. He gradually grew weaker and the operation was abandoned, and after languishing for eight days in Lexington the great avenger, Death, kissed down his eyelids still and he fell into silence and pathetic dust. Tuesday at noon the remains were conveyed to the home of his parents on Lancaster avenue, this city, where many friends, both young and old, called to pay the last fond tribute of respect to the memory of a beloved boy and to offer condolence to the grief-stricken family.

Grant E. Lilly, Jr., was the youngest son of Judge and Mrs. Grant E. Lilly, editors of the Climax-Madisonian and the Kentucky Register, respectively. Last June he passed his thirteenth milestone on the great highway of life. He was an unusually bright boy and a favorite with all who knew him, both old and young. He was brave as a warrior and never flinched, yet he was kind, loving, obedient, and grateful for every courtesy or favor shown him. He was polite and courteous to one and all—a really little man. He will be greatly missed in his circle of little playmates in the school, on the street, and in the home which he filled with the perfume of joy. He is survived by his parents, one sister, Miss Austin Lilly, and a brother, Mr. Marion Lilly, all of whom have the deepest sympathy of the entire community.

Funeral services were held at the home of his parents on Lancaster avenue this (Wednesday) morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Dr. E. B. Barnes, pastor of the First Christian church, assisted by Dr. R. L. Telford, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, after which the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Richmond cemetery. The little grave was buried beneath a mountain of flowers, silent and beautiful testimonial of many friends.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Monday night about 9:30 o'clock the alarm of fire was sounded and the "boys" were rushed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cosby at the corner of West Main street and Tates Creek avenue. On their arrival at the scene the flames had gained such headway there efforts were almost unavailing. The house, which is the property of Mrs. Cornie Clay, is almost a total wreck. Mr. and Mrs. Cosby had the misfortune to lose a large quantity of their household effects. Miss Sara Wagers who is a sister of Mrs. Cosby, and had her trunk packed to start for the Southland the following day, had nearly all of her belongings destroyed. One of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Cosby, which was sleeping in a side bedroom at the time of the discovery of the fire was rescued with great difficulty, and would have perished in the flames a minute later. The origin of the fire is unknown. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Cosby and Miss Wagers deeply deplore the severe loss which these splendid people have sustained.

FINE SHOWING

Made by the Madison County Poultry Association Last Week.

FINEST EXHIBITS EVER DISPLAYED IN THE CITY OR COUNTY.

The exhibit of the Madison County Agricultural Show and Poultry Association which was held at the Madison Tobacco Warehouse in this city on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, was one of the finest exhibitions of poultry and all other farm products ever seen in this county, and possibly in the state. Not only were there farm products on display, but there were displays of choice viands—the daintiest and finest of the culinary art. There were also comforts and bed quilts, fancy work, and other things too numerous to mention.

The Chamber of Commerce had worked hard for the success of the enterprise and how well Mr. C. C. Thomas, Secretary-Manager, and his lieutenants succeeded can only be attested by the thousands who attended the show. The weather was ideal and the days of the exhibition witnessed large crowds. Everybody who attended was greatly surprised at the large amount of produce exhibited, and the novel and artistic manner in which it was displayed. The writer has attended similar exhibitions in the large cities, and he has no hesitancy in saying the show of the Madison County Agricultural Show and Poultry Association eclipsed anything he has seen.

Our merchants were very enthusiastic and lent liberally of their support. They had fine displays of their goods and wares on exhibition. There was something for every human need. When the lights were turned on it was, indeed, a Fairy Land and made a beautiful and impressive picture. Our merchants are to be congratulated for the part they played. It proves conclusively that by a united effort the whole people—wool-growers, dairymen, etc.—can be accomplished. The premiums were very liberal and the hearts of many good housewives of this grand old county were gladdened when they were paid handsome premiums for their wares. Not only housewives, but many, husbands and sons felt help to many of the splendid prizes offered, and likewise, they too, rejoiced in the splendid success of the enterprise. It was a time of rejoicing for everybody, and we congratulate the promoters of their splendid success.

Following is a list of the premiums won at the Big Show.

L. & N. TO ARBITRATE.

Louisville.—President Milton H. Smith, of the L. & N. Railroad, signed a proposition submitted to him by Judge W. L. Chambers of the Federal Board of Mediation on Conciliation, whereby the differences between the company and the firemen growing out of the dismissal of twenty men at the Nashville terminal, will be laid before an arbitration committee. This announcement was made by Judge Chambers after Mr. Smith had given his approval of the plan for arbitration.

Under the terms of the arbitration the firemen are to appoint one disinterested person, the railroad to appoint another and Judge Chambers will name the third member of the board, which it is provided shall hold a conference in not more than ten days after the appointments are made.

The question to be submitted to the committee deals with whether the men who were dismissed applied for admission to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen before or after their dismissal. All parties to the controversy have agreed it is said, that if the men joined the organization before they were let out by the company, the company was justified, as the L. & N. holds that it has the right to let the men go in view of the violation by firemen and trainmen some years ago of labor contracts, since which time the railroad has not recognized the firemen and trainmen as an organized body.

According to the firemen, only two of their number joined the organization before they were discharged. Only five applied for membership afterward and fourteen never thought of joining the organization. It is believed that Judge Chambers' efforts in the controversy prevented a strike. It seems certain that all the discharged men will be reinstated by the railroad except the two who had joined the order.

CONDITION IMPROVED.

Latest reports from the bedside of Mrs. C. S. Thompson, nee Miss Ruth Wiggins, now of Shawnee, Oklahoma, state that her condition is somewhat improved, and hopes are now entertained for her recovery. This is gratifying news to her many friends in this community.

COURTESY AS A BUSINESS ASSET.

It is not unusual to note in the advertising columns of the newspapers a position open to a young man of "good address." Sometimes the requirement is "must be courteous"—courtesy and politeness are indispensable in good address. The young man who slouches into the presence of a prospective employer with his hat on, a cigar in his mouth and his hands in his pockets is not the right type for the place. One of the complaints of the time is of the lack of civility in our every day relations with each other. The individual who is courteous in his social world feels himself privileged to be a boar so far as the general public is concerned. He keeps his manners, like his evening clothes, for full dress occasions, and sometimes makes mistakes.

The Lexington Leader has the following announcement in their Sunday's paper: "Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock the marriage of Miss Addie Steele to Mr. Allen Zaring, of Richmond, will be solemnized at Woodlawn, the home in the country at Nealon of Mr. and Mrs. John Steele. Rev. Edwin Barnes, of Richmond, will be the officiating minister, and the wedding music will be played by Mrs. Robert Simpson. It is to be a yellow and white chrysanthemum wedding. Miss Martha Allen, of Richmond, will be the maid of honor, and Mrs. Lee Williams the matron of honor. A reception will be held after the ceremony and then the bride couple will leave for a trip. They will be at home in Richmond, going to house-keeping in a residence on the Summit."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Covington, of Waco, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding, at their home Wednesday. The decorations in the parlor were of yellow roses and in the dining room of yellow chrysanthemums, making a beautiful scene and carrying out the color scheme.

The menu of three tempting courses was elegantly prepared by Miss Katherine Covington, who has no superior in the culinary art. She was ably assisted by Misses Ida Blanton, Elizabeth Covington, and Mesdames Willis Hise, C. L. Searcy and James Wagers. The gifts were many and beautiful, among which were several gold coins, gold hand china and spoons. It was a hospitality greatly enjoyed by the following friends and relatives everyone of whom were ardent supporters of Woodrow Wilson. Covers were laid for M. C. Covington and family, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hise, Mr. and Mrs. May Collins, Walker Covington and family, Tandy Eades and family, of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Lackey, Mr. Colby McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Covington, Mr. and Mrs. George McKinney, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Deatherage, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Oldham, Mrs. Sallie Cornelson, Mrs. Walker Hise, Miss Virginia Hise, Mr. and Mrs. James Wagers, Mr. Wm. Blanton, Miss Ida Blanton, Miss Minnie Zittle, Mr. and Mrs. Hise, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hise, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Reeves, Walter F. Park and family, Wm. Park and family, Armer Hise and family, Mrs. Mollie Dudley, Mrs. Amanda Benton, Mrs. Sallie Lackey, Clarence Hicks, David Hise, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Griggs, R. M. Rowland and family, Mrs. P. W. Powell.

Miss Helen Bennett entertained the Cecilia Club at her home on West Main street, Wednesday. The following Russian program was beautifully given led by the hostess: Answer to roll call—Modern Pianists. Paper on Tchaikovsky and Rubenstein—Mrs. A. R. Burnam. Rachamaninoff—Prelude in C sharp minor—Mrs. A. R. Denny. Current Events—Miss Julia Higgins. Solo—"Lilacs" by Rachamaninoff—Miss Laura Bright. En Automne, Moszkowski—Mrs. S. J. McGaughey. Song Cycle, Liza Lehmann—Mrs. Paul Burnam, Mrs. T. D. Chenault, Jr., and Mrs. Nettie Ballard. Scherzino, Moszkowski—Mrs. M. C. Kellogg. Solo, selected, Tchaikovsky—Mrs. Paul Burnam.

The marriage of Miss Isa Telford and Mr. James S. Clay, of Savannah, Georgia, was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Telford, on the campus. It was a very quiet, simple wedding, but beautiful in detail. A pretty decorative scene in pink and white chrysanthemums was used throughout the house and the couple stood before an altar of palms and ferns for the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. Dr. Telford. Beautiful wedding music was given by Miss Brownie Telford on the harp and Miss Bessie Telford at the piano. The bride was given in marriage by her aunt, Mrs. Telford, and little Miss Margaret Telford was the flower girl carrying a basket of white chrysanthemums. Mr. Clay had as his best man his brother, Dr. Thomas S. Clay, of Savannah, Ga.

After the wedding an elegant five course dinner was given to the bride party and guests, after which Mr. and Mrs. Clay left for an extended trip in the East.

The out of town guests were: Misses Elizabeth and Caroline Clay, of Savannah, sisters of the groom, Dr. Thomas S. Clay and Mr. William S. Clay, also of Savannah, brothers of the groom, and Mrs. A. W. Brown, of West Virginia.

The Woman's Club met on Monday afternoon in the club rooms of the First Christian church. The meeting was one of the literary members of the year with Mrs. Charles A. Keith as leader. Mesdames M. C. Kellogg and S. J. McGaughey gave piano solos and Miss Helen Bennett a very interesting paper on "Mad Folk of Shakespeare." The next meeting in two weeks will be a civic meeting.

Miss Mary D. Pickels was hostess of her Bridge Club Saturday afternoon at her home on Third street.

Miss Elath Buchanan is entertaining the Young Ladies Bridge Club this afternoon.

PERSONALS.

Miss Mary Louise Covington was hostess of the Apollo Music Club at her home on West Main Monday afternoon.

Mrs. T. T. Covington is visiting her daughter, Miss Hester Covington, in Lexington.

Miss Marianne Collins is visiting friends in Clarksville, Tenn.

Mrs. Mamie Stockton is very ill at the home of Mrs. R. C. Stockton on Lancaster avenue.

Mrs. Lewis Ross, of Kirksville, who is just recovering from an illness of typhoid fever, is the guest of Mrs. Florence Thorpe at Memorial Hall.

Mr. Preston Smith was in Lawrenceburg this week on business.

A large delegation of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by the secretary, Mr. Thomas, and the President, Mr. R. E. Turley, were in Berea Monday night in the interest of the bond issue for the new bridge at Clay's Ferry.

Miss Myrtle Gott has returned from a visit to her uncle in St. Louis.

Mrs. Preston Smith has returned from the South where she has been visiting her parents.

Mrs. J. W. Zaring has been visiting her daughter in Lexington.

Miss Elizabeth Farley came up from Covington to spend the week-end with her aunt, Miss Belle March.

Mrs. Charles L. Taggart and son, Lewis, of Cynthia, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Millard Sunday.

Miss Ellen Gilbert, who is teaching in Louisville, spent several days last week with her father, Mr. H. P. Gilbert, at Speedwell.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sewell, of Cynthia, were the guests of Richmond friends Sunday. Mrs. Sewell remained for a visit with her mother this week.

Mrs. G. W. Evans is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. M. Rogers, at Hanover, Indiana.

Attorney G. Murray Smith left Saturday for Indianapolis. He will spend two weeks at Mt. Jackson Sanatorium for the benefit of his health.

Hon. Stephen D. Parrish left Saturday morning for a ten days stay at Bristol, Gate City, and Big Stone Gap, Virginia, being employed in the settlement of a big equity case.

Mr. Parrish is one of the leading lawyers at the Richmond bar and is building up a large and lucrative practice. In equity cases he has few equals.

JAMES FOR SENATE LEADER.

Friends of Hon. Ollie M. James, Kentucky's brilliant leader and close friend of President Wilson have started a boom for him as Senate leader at the national capital. They claim that he is just the man for leader of the United States Senate to succeed Senator John W. Kern, of Indiana, who was defeated for re-election in last Tuesday's election.

The suggestion of Senator James for the place of high party responsibility is a widespread movement among his friends, who believe that not only has he unusual qualities for the place, but that he is entitled to reward for his herculean efforts for party success in many campaigns. In the campaign just ended he was recognized as the leading figure on the stump for the Democrats.

There was a time when the elevation of a Senator to leadership during his first term was unthinkable, but old traditions were shattered when Senator Kern was elected early in his first term and the elevation of Senator James to leadership would not be considered out of place on account of his limited senatorial service. It is pointed out that in floor debates he is aggressive, at times militant, and that he has all the qualifications for a leader who would put the Democratic party in the center of the senatorial map and keep it there.

When Senator James was told of the boom that has been started for him for leader he said that he was not a candidate and was content to serve in the ranks.

WINS SIGNAL VICTORY. News has just reached this city from El Paso, Texas, of the signal victory won in the election of Tuesday of last week by Mr. R. N. Dudley, for Representative in the Texas Legislature by a plurality of 3,074. Mr. Dudley has been a resident of Texas for the past five years and the large majority which he was given in the district of El Paso speaks volumes of the high esteem in which he is held by the people of the Lone Star State. He is a former Madison county boy and a member of an old family. His many Kentucky friends congratulate him upon his great victory. Success to you, Representative Dudley.

The tablet form of this old reliable remedy makes it possible for you to check any illness at the very onset. It is a safeguard against coughs, colds and other catarrhal conditions, no matter what symptoms are manifest. Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membrane that lines the breathing apparatus and the digestive apparatus. PERUNA relieves catarrh. In tablet form it is EVER-READY-TO-TAKE. Its prompt action makes it invaluable for men and women exposed to sudden changes in the weather or compelled to be out in slush and rain.

It will also be found most satisfactory as a tonic following an attack of illness.

CARRY A BOX wherever you go. Travelers and others who are compelled to take long drives in the cold and severe whose occupation subjects him to the danger of sudden colds may use it as a preventive with the assurance that the tablets made are from the same formula as the liquid medicine with its 44 years of success before the American Public.

MISS IDA MAY GRANT DEAD.

Miss Ida May Grant, newspaper correspondent and poet, died at her home in Lancaster, Saturday. She was the eldest daughter of Dr. J. W. Grant, and was a niece of Cicero Price, father of the Duchess of Marlborough. Miss Grant was born in Lancaster fifty-six years ago and early in life she showed marked literary ability. She was selected to contribute a poem on Kentucky Day at the Atlanta Exposition, and won great renown. At the time of her death she was correspondent for a number of papers. Miss Grant was known to many of our citizens.

ON THE JOB.

The folks who try to tease and vex. Since woman made her entry, Denounce her as the weaker sex. And things not complimentary. The bill for various crimes she foots. She does, indeed, by Gosh— But when the Lord wants work he puts A woman on the job.

When men were hiding 'neath the bed Or drowning fear in toddy, Brave Judith bravely cut the head Off Holofernes' body; Then Jael drove a little nail In Sisera's head, by Gosh— Because the Lord, when men fail, Puts a woman on the job.

When English led the French a dance In their defeat delighting, A simple peasant girl of France Stepped in and bossed the fighting. She stopped the merry English chase, Till the knights look like three hob And proved the Lord did right to place A woman on the job.

And now the proud Republicans Our home and land imperil; And Teddy with his "also rans" Makes threats and pledges sterile. Let not your old-time zeal grow cold Like many a craven slob— But let our foes find as of old A woman on the job.

MEADOWLARK
Sturnella magna and Sturnella neglecta

Length, about ten and three-fourths inches.

Range: Breed generally in the United States, southern Canada, and Mexico to Costa Rica; winter from the Ohio and Potomac valleys and British Columbia southward.

Habits and economic status: Our two meadowlarks, though differing much in song, resemble each other closely in plumage and habits. Grassy plains and uplands covered with a thick growth of grass or weeds, with nearby water, furnish the conditions best suited to the meadowlark's taste. The song of the western bird is loud, clear, and melodious. That of its eastern relative is feebler and loses much by comparison. In many localities the meadowlark is classed and shot as a game bird. From the farmer's standpoint this is a mistake, since its value as an insect eater is far greater than as an object of pursuit by the sportsman. Both the boll weevil, the foe of the cotton grower, and the alfalfa weevil are among the beetles it habitually eats. Twenty-five per cent of the diet of this bird is beetles, half of which are predaceous ground beetles, accounted useful insects, and one-fifth are destructive weevils. Caterpillars form 11 per cent of the food and are eaten in every month in the year. Among these are many cutworms and the well-known army worm. Grasshoppers are favorite food and are eaten in every month and almost every day. The vegetable food consists of 24 per cent of the whole) consists of grain and weed seeds.

ARKANSAS KINGBIRD
Tyrannus verticalis

Length, nine inches. The white edge of the feather on each side of the tail distinguishes this from all other flycatchers except the gray and salmon-colored scissortail of Texas. Range: Breeds from Minnesota, Kansas, and Texas to the Pacific ocean and from northern Mexico to southern Canada; winters from Mexico to Guatemala.

Habits and economic status: The Arkansas kingbird is not so domestic as its eastern relative and seems to prefer the hill country with scattered oaks rather than the orchard or the vicinity of ranch buildings, but it sometimes places its rude and conspicuous nest in trees on village streets. The bird's yearly food is composed of 87 per cent animal matter and 13 per cent vegetable. The animal food is composed almost entirely of insects. Like the eastern species, it has been accused of destroying honeybees to a harmful extent, and remains of honeybees were found to constitute five per cent of the food of the individuals examined, but nearly all those eaten were drones. Bees and wasps, in general, are the biggest item of food (38 per cent), grasshoppers and crickets stand next (20 per cent), and beetles, mostly of noxious species, constitute 14 per cent of the food. The vegetable food consists mostly of fruit, such as the elder and other berries, with a few seeds. This bird should be strictly preserved.

REPAIRING "FAMOUS CASTLE"

Mr. John A. Quisenberry is having some extensive repairs made upon a small dwelling in his yard and adjoining his residence on Lexington street, which is quite a famous building among former graduates of Centre College. Some years ago this building was rented as a sleeping apartment by students who afterward became famous men. It was occupied by Senator J. C. Blackburn, Col. W. C. P. Breckinridge, Col. Bennett H. Young and other now prominent men. The students named the building the "Castle of Indolence," and it is well remembered by all the older citizens of Danville as well as graduates of Centre as "The Castle." Mr. Quisenberry has taken good care of the building because of its history, and says he is now fitting it up for his reading room. This item will be read with much interest by old Centre men and especially so by Col. Young and Senator Blackburn.—Danville Advocate.

Don't use harsh physics. The reaction weakens the bowels, leads to constipation. Get Doan's Regulax. They operate easily. 25c at all stores.

For any pain, burn, scald or bruise apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the household remedy. Two sizes 25c and 50c at all drug stores.

SELLS CATTLE.

M. E. Wilson, of Pine Grove, sold 20 head of registered Shorthorn cattle at public auction at the Hamilton stock yards to Clark, Borubon and Montgomery county dealers at an average of $136. The best sale was a cow and calf to E. R. Little, of Mt. Sterling, for $415. The cattle were just from the pasture and not in first class condition. There were a number of calves in the lot.—Winchester Democrat.

THE HOME PAPER.
A TRIBUTE FROM WM. ALLEN WHITE TO RURAL JOURNALISM.

No finer tribute to the country news paper has ever been paid than the following. It was written by William Allen White, editor of the Emporia (Kan.) Gazette, for Harper's Magazine. Mr. White's words in part are: "But the beauty and joy of our papers and their little world are the papers who live in the country towns know our own heroes. Who knows Murphy in New York? Only a few. Yet in Emporia we all know Tom O'Connor—and love him. Who knows Morgan in New York? One man in a hundred thousand. Yet in Emporia who does not know George Newman, our banker and merchant prince? Boston people pick up their morning papers and read with shuddering horror of the crimes of their daily villain yet read without that fine thrill that we have when we hear that Al. Lurphy is in jail again in Emporia. For we all know Al. We've ridden in his hack a score of times. And we take up our paper with the story of his frailties as readers who begin the narrative of an old friend's adventures."

"Our papers, our little country papers, seem drab and miserably provincial to strangers, yet we who read them see in their lines the sweet, intimate story of life. And all these touches of nature makes us wondrous kind. It is the country newspaper, bringing together daily the threads of the town's life, weaving them into something rich and strange, and setting the pattern as it weaves, directing the loom and giving the cloth its color by mixing the lives of all people in the color pot—it is the country newspaper that reveals us to ourselves, that keeps our country hearts quick, and our country minds open, and our country faith strong."

"When the girl at the glove counter marries the boy in the wholesale house of the news of their wedding is good for a forty line wedding notice, and the forty lines in the country paper gives them self-respect. When in due course we know that their baby is a twelve pounder, named Grover, Theodore or Woodrow, we must have that neighborly feeling that breeds the real democracy. When we read of death in that home we can mourn with them that mourn. When we see them moving upward into the world into a firm and out toward the country club neighborhood, we rejoice with them that rejoice. Therefore, men and brethren, when you are riding through this vale of tears upon the California limited and by chance pick up the little country newspaper with its meager telegraph service of 3,000 or 4,000 words, or at best 15,000 or 20,000; when you see its array of country-side items, its interminable local stores, its tiresome editorials on the water works, the schools, the street railroad, the crops and the city printing, don't throw down the contemptible little rag with the verdict that there is nothing in it. But know this and know it well: If you could take the clay from your eyes and read the little paper as it is written, you would find all of God's beautiful, sorrowing, struggling, aspiring world in it, and what you saw would make you touch the little paper with reverend hands."

MORTGAGE FOR $1,000,000.

The Clerk of Bell county is recording a mortgage in his office from the Mobray & Robinson Company, a Cincinnati lumber company, owning lands in Perry, Knott, Leslie, Clay and Bell counties, to the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago and Calvin Pentress, trustee, of Chicago, for $1,000,000. The mortgage covers thousands of acres of undeveloped mountain land in the five counties, upon some of which the virgin timber is still growing. The mortgage covers 366 pages of the record books, and recites that it is made to secure the payment of $1,000,000 in bonds guaranteed by the Chicago bank. It is understood that the money will be used in improving the company's property and in marketing the timber.—Pineville Sun.

PROUD MAN.

The proudest man in Lexington today is "Colonel" John N. Green, aged 70 years, of 350 Blackburn avenue, oldest telegraph messenger in the world, who has annexed what he thinks, is another world's record, he becoming the oldest father, a nine and a half pound boy having been born to Mrs. Green at the Good Samaritan hospital Friday. Mrs. Green is 58 years old. Mother and child are doing nicely.—Lexington Leader.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Robert H. Hendren, Admr., &c. Pliffs vs. Thos. Hendren, &c. Dfts

As directed by a judgment and order of sale entered in the above styled action at the October Term, 1916, of the Madison Circuit Court, the undersigned will on Saturday, Nov. 25, 1916

at or about 11 o'clock a. m. sell to the highest and best bidder on the premises of Tract No. 1, hereinafter described, the following property which belonged to W. H. Hendren, deceased.

Tract No. 1—24½ acres of land, enay Kirksville, in Madison county, Ky., on the Richmond and Kirksville pike. This tract was acquired by W. H. Hendren by three deeds as follows: (1) 214½ acres from M. M. Wiseman, January 5, 1895, recorded in Deed Book 44, page 299; (2) 16 acres from J. M. Riffe et al. January 2, 1903, recorded in Deed Book 54, page 356; (3) 15 acres from Rodes Denny and others, May 14th, 1912, recorded in Deed Book 75, page 592.

Tract No. 2—201½ acres of land in Madison county, Ky., on the waters of Elk Garden Branch of Silver Creek and on the Kirksville and Kentucky River turnpike.

Tract No. 3—77 acres of land on the waters of Back Creek, in Garrard county, Ky., and being the same land conveyed to John Lear, Dennis Lear and Peter Lear by W. H. Spainhower by deed of January 1, 1893, recorded in the office of the clerk of Garrard County Court in Deed Book "72," at page 478. These tracts of land will be surveyed before the sale, and may be, in the discretion of the undersigned or at the request of plaintiff's counsel, offered first in parcels and then as wholes. All of it is fine, strong land, and its sale affords a very unusual opportunity to purchase high class land at judicial sale. Possession will be given January 1, 1917.

TERMS—All sales will be on a credit of twelve months, purchasers to execute bonds with approved security and secured by liens retained on the land, the bonds to bear six per cent interest from day of sale.

J. J. GREENLEAF, Master Commissioner.

BOB WHITE.

I heard them greet the peep of dawn
From every bush and tree;
Blackbird, Bluebird, Robin, Wren, Jay, Thrasher, Chickadee;
Then I heard from his retreat,
Somewhere in the corn or wheat,
Bob White welcoming the morning
And I thought his song mere sweet:
"Bob White! Bob White!"

Was that note of bird or sprite,
Bob White?

I have listened in the shadows
To the haunting whippoorwill
I have heard the rapturous mocker,
Oh, a wealth of sweetness spills!
Yet not these today I hear,
But one sound stayed in my ear—
Just the quail's full-throated whistle,
Just his double note of cheer:
"Bob White! Bob White!"
May no gun your fluting blight—
Bob White!

NEW MAYOR.

Mr. W. Owen McIntyre, of the Danville Advocate, and one of the best known and foremost newspaper men in the State, was unanimously chosen Mayor of the city of Danville last week to succeed the late lamented Mayor J. M. Wallace. If our old friend makes as good executive officer as he is a pencil pusher, and we believe he will, the city of Danville will have just cause to "swell up" with municipal pride. We congratulate you, Brother McIntyre, and wish you bon voyage during your official career.

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bulolz says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it."

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarce.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, croup, raw or inflamed throat, hoarseness, tightness and soreness of the chest, and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.

Importance of Healthy Kidneys.

Richmond Readers Should Learn to Keep their Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some other illness exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment, or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy for the kidneys only, that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this advice. It came from a resident of this locality.

Charles Turner, Franklin, Ky., says: "I have had trouble from my kidneys, but Doan's Kidney Pills have never failed to relieve me. I have used them for some years and would not consider any other kidney medicine."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Turner had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Phthisis Most Common of Diseases But Many Conquer Germ Without Knowing It

By DR. THOMAS WILLET

It is commonly believed that tuberculosis is a disease of adults. That is a mistake. Tuberculosis is almost entirely a childhood disease. That is to say, the primary invasion takes place in childhood and the germs lie in a quiescent stage until under certain conditions of exposure, over-fatigue or self-indulgence they break forth and become active. Eighty-five per cent of all persons have had the disease in their bodies by the time they are fifteen years of age. It is the commonest of all diseases, and in spite of the fact that it kills more people annually than all the other diseases combined, if pneumonia is excepted, death is not the common termination of the disease. Many people conquer the germ without ever knowing of its presence.

Ninety-nine per cent of the babies who are infected with tuberculosis in the first month of their life die. Ninety per cent of those who contract the disease in the first year die. With the increasing resistance of the body this percentage is lowered, and only 35 per cent of the babies who contract the disease in their second year die.

merchants can seldom be employed profitable unless the producer ships given products in substantial amounts or associates himself with other producers for assembling shipments large enough to be handled economically by rail. Direct marketing in cities, therefore, opens up to the small farmers of the surrounding country profitable lines of production which otherwise could not be followed, or results in the sale of surplus products which otherwise might be lost.

Studies in City Marketing.

Because of importance of city marketing to the farmer in these various ways, the Office of Markets and Rural Organization has taken up one of its important projects, city marketing and distribution. Through this project the aim of the office has been to study marketing conditions in various cities; to determine as accurately as possible the sources of loss and waste in city marketing and the methods by which such losses and waste may be eliminated; to develop general plans for efficient marketing facilities of various kinds for cities; to aid by specific suggestions such cities as may seek assistance in improving their marketing conditions. In this work the office has sought to benefit alike all parties to marketing transactions by attempting to remove obstacles from the market channels so that a more rapid, more even and less wasteful flow of commodities from producer to consumer will be possible.

The rail and water terminals in cities constitute the most important factor in their marketing machinery for farm products, since the vast bulk of such products consumed in cities is brought in by carload or boatload lots. Recognizing that such terminals are not arranged to the best advantage in most cities and that to this are due some of the high handling costs and some of the important losses of commodities, the Office of Markets made terminal facilities the subject of one of its earliest investigations in city marketing. It has found that the uneconomic arrangement of terminal facilities is most pronounced in the larger cities, but that the fault is common to a greater or less degree in all cities of importance.

Too Many Terminals.

The general fault, it has been found is the existence of numerous terminals separated from each other and from the wholesale store district or districts. In some instances as many as a score of separate terminals exist in a city. Shipments from a given dealer may arrive at a number of these terminals on the same day, necessitating much more costly cartage or the employment of more salesmen than would be necessary if but a single terminal for perishables existed and the wholesale dealer and his store located conveniently to it.
Every extra handling, every square of extra cartage, and every additional salary paid increases the labor cost of marketing, which must come out of the margin between the producer's selling price and the consumer's buying price. The extra handling, the jolting due to long hauls, often over rough cobblestone streets, and the delay in getting the produce into the retail trade channels greatly increase the losses due to bruising and decay of perishables, and so add further to the marketing costs.

The aggregate losses and additions to marketing costs, due to inefficient terminal facilities, are so great in the average large city that market specialists believe that it would be feasible plan in many instances for the communities to promote and finance a separate terminal for perishables which would be connected with all railroads entering the city. Such a terminal might be built especially for the purpose or might be obtained by securing an existing railroad yard and warehouse which could be opened to the receipt of all railroads. It is also desirable where perishables enter a city by both rail and water that the terminal be established at a point convenient to both water and rail transportation facilities. A still more complete arrangement would call for a wholesale farmers' market near by,
at which could be assembled produce brought from the surrounding country by wagons.

Terminal facilities of the type outlined might be owned by municipalities, railroad companies, private corporations, or associations of dealers.
At present terminals even approaching in from those described exist in only a very few cities of the country.
Agencies in many cities, however, have taken up a study of the local marketing situations with a view to centralizing and otherwise improving terminal facilities for perishables.
In this work the Office of Markets is co-operating with several of these local agencies and communities.

Public Markets in Cities.

Study has also been devoted by the office to the facilities which have been provided in cities for direct marketing by farmers who haul their produce by wagon, and to marketing facilities perishable food products in general conducted more especially for the benefit of the consumer. Such facilities, known generally as public markets, have been furnished in some form, it has been found, in nearly 200 of the 584 cities of more than 10,000 population existing in the country.
Three types usually are recognized—the farmers' retail curb or shelter market; the farmers' wholesale curb or shelter market; and the public inclosed or booth market.

Farmers' retail markets often consist only of designated sections of a street on which farmers assemble with their wagons of miscellaneous farm produce and sell in small au-mounts directly to the consumers who come there to buy. The more permanent farmers' retail markets, however, are located on plots of ground set aside for the purpose and fitted with substantial sheds, under which the farmers drive their wagons. Such markets are, in most cases, conducted under municipal control and a nomi-

Farmers' retail markets, whether of the curb or shelter type, are not recommended for all towns without qualification. The size of the community and numerous other local considerations must determine the practicability of the enterprise. There first be a sufficient number of farmers in easy reach of the town who will bring supplies for the market. There must be in the town a sufficient demand on the part of the consumers for such a market, where, by going in person and carrying away their goods they may obtain produce fresher than that available at the average retail grocery store and usually at somewhat lower prices. A substantially large proportion of the consumers as such a town can not be depended upon as customers of such a market; for many housewives, weighing the advantages to be gained by such personal marketing against the trouble and time it would require, prefer to depend on neighborhood stores where orders may be given quickly in person or by telephone and where the expensive credit and delivery service obtained. In most cities of fairly large size, however, the number of consumers wishing to buy directly from producers is usually large enough to support a farmers' retail market. From the producers' point of view, the farmers' retail market offers perhaps the best outlet for assorted produce raised in relatively small amounts.

Farmers' Wholesale Markets.

Farmers' wholesale markets may often be a success in towns too small to support retail markets; for in markets of the former sort sales are made to retail stores, hucksters, hotels, restaurants, boarding houses and the like—agencies which usually seek out the most profitable buying methods.
When the local markets are glutted and these usual customers do not take all available supplies, farmers utilizing the public wholesale lines often turn their loads of produce over to commission merchants for these agencies to sell locally or to out of town trade.

The usual sales of farmers' wholesale markets are by crate, bushel, or other larger unit, and sometimes by entire load. Farmers' conducting relatively extensive truck-growing operations in the neighborhood of cities may find that the farmers' wholesale markets offer a profitable outlet thru which to dispose of their produce. In the vicinity of some cities, even truck growers having a sufficient output to make carload shipments by rail find it more advantageous to market their products by motor truck or wagon through the near-by farmers' wholesale market. Such markets, like the farmers' retail markets, may be merely designated sections of streets, or may be substantial shelters on market plats. They are usually under municipal control.

Inclosed Public Markets.

Inclosed public markets in cities, while primarily for the benefit of the consumers, are also of interest to farmers, since many of the latter retail stalls therein. Such markets are practically an assemblage of small specialized retail stores selling meats, vegetables, fruits, dairy products, and other food substances, provided with shop facilities by the municipality or a semipublic agency, at a small cost.
The theory on which such markets are maintained is that by a reduction of rents and other overhead charges, the elimination of credit and delivery costs in many cases, and the attraction of a large number of potential buyers, the booth-keepers will be enabled to sell fresher goods at lower prices than the individual retail stores in the community; and that the market as a whole will offer an assortment of attractive produce larger by far than can be carried by the smaller stores. Much the same class of buyers must be looked to by such a market as those dependent upon by the retail farmers' markets—the open and retail farmers' markets. In fact, the two types of markets—the open and the inclosed—are combined in one unit as a rule.

The studies that have been made of the various kinds of market institutions here discussed have enabled the Office of Markets and Rural Organization to offer an advisory service to cities, truck growers, and produce dealers' organizations, which has proven very helpful. As a rule, when a community desires to improve its marketing facilities, it does not know how to proceed efficiently and economically. It is to meet situations of that kind that the office, upon the request of responsible parties, will make a survey of local conditions and recommend as far as feasible the plan of procedure which appears advisable.
The office is also able to submit rough plans for modern market structures, together with estimates of their cost, these to be used as a guide by the local architect.

This service work has been carried on so far in some 25 or more cities in 13 States, and the widespread demand from other places is an indication of the general interest which municipalities are showing in marketing questions. While this outlines but one phase of the work being taken up under city marketing and distribution investigations, it has occupied the

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave
Up in Despair. Husband
Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good.

I had gotten so weak I could not stand,
and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tire-tiring me, and am doing all my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of continuous success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

LOSES FINE HOG.

Mr. W. B. Turley, who had a fine display of Red Berkshire hogs on display at the Madison County Poultry Show last week, had the misfortune to lose a 500-pounder from the effects of the heat. This was an extra fine hog, having won the first prize at the Kentucky State Fair this year, and was highly prized by the owner.

PAUL SAWYER VISITS THIS CITY

The McGaughey Studio was the scene of a very delightful reception Thursday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. McGaughey assisted by Mr. Brower and Mr. Haddad, of Lexington, entertained Mr. Paul Sawyer, the famous Kentucky artist. Some of Mr. Sawyer's choicest pictures were on exhibition and were much enjoyed by the art lovers of Richmond.

PROHIBITION WINS.

The prohibition issue was voted on in nine states in the Union last Tuesday with the following result: California, wet; Oregon, dry; Maryland, wet; Michigan, dry; Missouri, wet; Montana, dry; Nebraska, dry; Idaho, dry; South Dakota, dry. This adds six states to the dry column, which makes a total of twenty-five out of forty-eight, or a majority now dry. Alaska has also been added to the dry possessions of the United States.

STREET BOND ISSUE WINS.

The proposition to raise funds with which to improve the streets of the city by a $12,000 bond issue carried in both the Irvine precincts by over six to one, the total vote being, East Irvine in favor of bonds 115; against, 18; West Irvine, in favor of bonds, 149; against, 24. Majority in two precincts for 264; against 42. The authorities say that no time will be lost in giving the public the benefit of the relief so badly needed.—Estill Tribune.

$25,000 REFUSED FOR COW.

The unprecedented sum of $25,000 has been refused for Sophie 19th of Hood Farm, the world's record long distance butter cow and world's record Jersey. The offer was made by Miss May Irvin, the actress, and was rejected by Sophie's owner, Mr. C. I. Hood, of Lowell, Mass. Miss Irvin owns a good herd in New York State, and while visiting the National Dairy Show at Springfield, Mass., where Sophie is on exhibition in a special enclosure, she became captivated by the cow and sent a check for $25,000 to Mr. Hood, but the offer was refused. Never before has such a sum been offered for a cow, but Mr. Hood was far-sighted in rejecting the offer, for Sophie is in calf to Champion Toron's son, and if the calf is a bull the new great sire will have been born.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure sent for circular free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

HERE'S SMILE OF PERFECT HEALTH

This Man Was Rheumatic Cripple Five Years.

FINDS STRENGTH NEW WAY

John Lands, Victim of Chronic Stomach Weakness, and Generally Run Down Constitution, Tells How He Won New Vigor—Now Hale and Hearty, Enjoys Life to Limit.

Can YOU smile like this? Hearty, jolly, contented—it's the smile of perfect health. It comes from bounding red blood.

Joy in living, the vim and vigor of sound manhood. How long since YOU have smiled like this. Be honest with yourself. Do you face the mirror in the morning with cheery pleasure over another day born, or do you get up tired, drooping and weary, with a bad taste in your mouth, aches in your body and bones, and a generally feeble feeling against all the world in your heart? If the latter, then you need just what John Lands needed—and found.

John Lands is the smaller in the picture. He is a machinist and lives at 712 Freeman avenue, Cincinnati. It is the experience he has been through that makes him smile today.

Hobbled on Crutches. For five years John Lands has suffered from a weak stomach and kidney trouble. Rheumatism set in and at times made him virtually a cripple. He had to hobble around on crutches for weeks at a time, laying off from his work, losing time and money, suffering agony.

"I have taken fully a hundred different kinds of medicine to relieve my condition during the last five years," he said. "But nothing seemed to do me any real good. Food would lie heavy on my stomach and I had to take cathartics constantly. Then I had an extremely bad case of rheumatism. Once I had to lay off work for four months. I had to use crutches a good many weeks at a time.

"Look at me now! I am hale and hearty and enjoy life to the limit. I am in full possession again of all my natural vigor."

Tanlac Did It. "What did it? Tanlac, the wonderful new tonic and system purifier. It is one hundred per cent efficient. No medicine I ever took has done for me one-tenth of what Tanlac has done. Ask any of my friends who have seen me daily. They will tell you the same thing. This Tanlac is positively marvelous."

Tanlac is now being specially introduced in Richmond at H. L. Perry's and Sons.

Tanlac may be obtained at the following nearby cities: College Hill, Ginter Bros.; Irvine, Irvine Drug Co.; Berea, S. E. Welsh; Panit Lick, J. N. Metcalf; Winchester, Duty Drug Co.; Winchester, R. R. No. 2, Mrs. S. E. Young; Nicholasville, Hutchinson Drug Co.; Little Hickman, Collier & Bruner; Lancaster, R. E. McRoberts; Bur. W. M. Owens; Mt. Vernon, Chas. C. Davis; Silver Creek, W. C. West; Butler, Ky., W. C. Rucker. 1t

GREAT BAPTIST ASSEMBLY.

IN SESSION IN LOUISVILLE THIS WEEK.

The organization was effected on Tuesday afternoon in the Walnut street church. D. W. D. Powell, corresponding secretary, presented the report of the State Board of Missions at the afternoon meeting. The gifts for the year amount to more than $200,000. There is some debt on the budget because the church has failed to pay the full appropriation to the Kentucky Baptist Children's Home at Glendale and the cause of Christian education.

Today a buffet luncheon will be served by the Louisville Convention and Publicity League, Mr. Denny B. Goode presiding. Tonight the budget plan will be discussed.

Thursday at noon there will be a men's banquet addressed by Dr. F. A. Agar, of New York, the Method Secretary of the Northern Baptist Convention. He is one of the most entertaining speakers in America.

Thursday afternoon the messengers will be taken in automobiles on a sight-seeing trip to the points of interest in Louisville.

At night Dr. J. W. Porter will present the report on State Missions. He is followed by Dr. Agar and then there will be brief addresses by a large number of mountain preachers. This will be one of the most interesting hours of the entire association.

LEG BROKEN.

While driving to Richmond last Saturday night in an automobile, Jeff Parrish suffered a broken leg when the steering gear of the machine broke causing the machine to overturn. Mrs. Parrish, who was with her husband, and Ralph Patton were also thrown out of the car but escaped serious injury. Mrs. Parrish suffered only a slight bruise on the arm. The accident occurred two miles this side of Richmond, and fortunately Clyde Gaines happened along in time to bring the stranded party back to Irvine.

Mrs. Parrish's injury was attended to upon her arrival in town and he is able to go about town on crutches.—Estill Tribune.

REXALL STRAW VOTE PROVES CORRECT.

HENRY L. PERRY & SON NAME WILSON BEFORE ELECTION.

President Wilson's victory at the polls last Tuesday is a striking verification of the prediction made by this paper long before election day.

Three weeks ago the 8,000 members of the Rexall Druggists' Association of which H. L. Perry & Son are members, began to take a straw vote of their customers. The members of the Association being scattered all over the United States, were able to reach 951,396 voters drawn from all walks of life. It was the biggest straw vote ever taken and was made possible only by the national character of the association.

The druggists throughout the country mailed or telegraphed the results of the votes cast by their customers to the national headquarters of the organization in Boston. There the votes were tabulated, and the results of the balloting from all the states were announced by daily bulletins mailed from Boston and which were posted in the 8,000 Rexall stores, and published simultaneously in the leading papers of the country.

The first straw vote bulletin sent out October 26th, showed Wilson in the lead. The second bulletin, issued October 27th, showed Hughes in the lead by one electoral vote. From that date each and every bulletin recorded steady gains for Wilson, both in the popular and electoral vote.

The final straw vote dated November 6th, gave Wilson 554,500 popular votes against 396,896 for Hughes. On electoral vote Wilson received 299 and Hughes 232 of the 266 necessary to elect.

This nationwide straw vote derived its value from strictly non-partisan character. The Rexall druggists with out regard to personal preferences, furnished the national headquarters of their association, The United Drug Company, accurate figures for each day's balloting in their stores. At the headquarters in Boston the votes were tabulated without fear or favor, the sole object being to call the turn in politics before election.

EASTERN LOSES.

The Centre College football team of Danville, defeated the fast Eastern Kentucky Normal team last Saturday afternoon by the score of 26 to 0. The game was fast from start to finish and a large crowd was on hand to watch the boys go down in defeat. This is only the second game Normal has lost this season.

MRS. MELTON'S LETTER

To Tired Worn-out Mothers

Jackson, Miss.—"I shall feel repaid for writing this letter if I can help any tired, worn-out mother or housekeeper to find health and strength as I have. I have a family of five, new, cook and do my housework and I became very much run-down in health. A friend asked me to try Vinol. I did so and now I am well and strong and my old time energy has been restored. Vinol has no superior as a tonic for worn-out, run-down, tired mothers or housekeepers."—Mrs. J. N. Melton, Jackson, Miss. B. L. Middleton, Druggist, Richmond. Also at the leading drug stores in all Kentucky towns.

EMBARGO IS ON.

In an effort to improve conditions in the South caused by the car shortage, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company has just announced an embargo against allowing any of its coal car equipment being sent north of Cincinnati or Louisville terminals of the road. It is explained that the step is taken to protect the coal industry and to help Louisville and Cincinnati as much as possible. Thousands of the L. & N.'s cars, it is explained, are being held by other roads.

PREFER LOOSE LEAF SYSTEM.

A severe jolt has been given the Farmers' Co-operative Tobacco Association, which controls 30,000,000 pounds of tobacco in the Green River district, by the announcement that the Imperial and American Tobacco Companies would not bid on any portion of the pool. These companies handle the bulk of the tobacco in the Green River district, and if they do not deal with the pool it will, of course, be a failure. They prefer the loose leaf system in the buying of tobacco.

BUYS FINE JACK.

Senor Doctor B. J. Crespo, and Captain Louis A. Beltram, accompanied by Hon. R. G. Lawton, of Lexington, were in this city last week looking over some stock with a view of purchasing for the Cuban government. Senor Crespo is chief veterinarian of the Department of Agriculture of the Cuban government, and Beltram is Captain in the Cuban army. They purchased a jack from our well known jack man, Will Boggs, of Red House, paying the sum of $600.00 for same. They are expected to pay another visit to this county within a few days.

"The greatest coffee maker in the world"

If he doesn't call you this it is your own fault

A million women can tell you that with them, the coffee problem is a thing of the past,— —that every morning their coffee makes the whole breakfast seem entirely different, satisfying, starts the day right for all.

Like these women, you will end your search for the right coffee the moment he tastes Arbuckles'.

Make up your mind to begin today to give your husband the benefit of their experience. Give him a chance to call you the greatest coffee maker in the world. When you see how enthusiastic he is over the flavor of Arbuckles' you will know why it has solved the problem of over a million women — why it is by far the most popular coffee in America today!

Arbuckle Bros. have the largest coffee roasters in the world. Every day they roast enough coffee to supply your entire county for a week.

FINE CROP.

Tobacco men say that the crop this year is the finest in a decade. High prices are expected when the loose leaf market opens. Statistics issued by the United States government show a shortage of over fifty million pounds of tobacco in the nation as compared to last year's statistics.
This shortage combined with the high quality, indicates that growers will get high prices this winter. Speculators have been trying to buy in many localities which is further evidence that high prices are anticipated.

RETAINS OLD GUARD.

The State of Kentucky is the only one in the Union that has returned its "old guard" delegation to Congress.
Every district in the State has given handily increased Democratic majorities. Deep cuts were made by the Democrats in the famous Republican Tenth and Eleventh districts.

APPLE CROP IS SHORT.

This year's Kentucky apple crop, estimated by the Department of Agriculture, by varieties, is as follows: Ben Davis, 547,000 barrels, a decrease of 33 percent from last year; Winesap, 502,000 barrels, a decrease of 45 per cent; Rome Beauty, 278,000 barrels, a decrease of 35 per cent; Grimes' Golden, 79,000 barrels, a decrease of 46 per cent; Stayman Winesap, 93,000 barrels, a decrease of 51 per cent; Limbertwig, 103,000 barrels, a decrease of 29 per cent.

FOR ASSESSOR.

Mr. R. B. Powell, of near Hockaday deputy assessor in Precinct No. 3, who has assessed this precinct for the past two years, has made such a splendid and efficient official that his friends have prevailed upon him to make the race for County Assessor. After due consideration, and with many promises of support from friends throughout the county, he has cast his hat into the ring and proposes to stay until the result is announced at the August primary, 1917.

Mr. Powell is a worthy young man, courteous and polite, polished and refined, is well qualified for the place, and, in our candid opinion, would make a good, trustworthy official.
He and his family connections on both sides are life-long Democrats of the "old school." He respectfully solicits the support and influence of the Democrats throughout the county, and if elected, promises to faithfully serve the people in the discharge of his duties. His announcement will be found elsewhere in this issue.

TWO SPRITELY VOTERS.

J. N. Apsley, aged 93, and Ab Lyle, aged 90, cast their ballots Tuesday.
Mr. Apsley is a progressive and cast his first presidential ballot for Zachary Taylor in 1848. To show his youth Mr. Apsley jumped up from the side walk this morning in front of the Allison clothing house and cracked his heels together in the air. He resides at 659 Eleventh street, this city.
Mr. Lyle is 90 years of age and cast his first vote in 1852. He is a Democrat and resides at 533 Chestnut st.
this city. Both are in fairly good health.—Bowling Green News.

TRIPLE FUNERAL.

A triple funeral was held Thursday at Hopkinsville following the double killing and suicide of which James Aldrige, John Bowles and his wife were victims. The three hearse headed the funeral procession which ended at Pembroke, where the bodies of Aldrige and Mrs. Bowles were buried.
Bowles was buried in another part of the cemetery.

Mrs. R. F. Tudor remains quite ill, much to the regret of many friends.
Mr. Norman Jenkins, of Baldwin, acres and the price paid was $15,000.

STUBBORN ECZEMA HEALED BY AMOLOX

The New Discovery for the Relief and Cure for Chronic Skin Diseases.

We are daily receiving letters of praise from people who have been cured by Amolox. Many of them tell how, after years, they have tried different remedies and doctors in the vain effort to find relief. Some become discouraged and lose all hope of ever being cured. E. R. Frisbee, 187 Sycamore street, Mansfield, O., writes:
"Our baby's face was covered with eczema scales, sores and scabs. She was a pitiable sight. We tried everything. Took her to Pittsburg doctors but they were unable to find any relief until we used Amolox. It cured her within a short time."

Amolox Ointment alone will quickly banish pimples, blackheads and take out all redness of the skin and cure most forms of skin diseases. Bad chronic cases of Eczema, Psoriasis, Tetter that have lasted for years, yield more quickly when both ointment and liquid are used. Trial 50c.
Heal L. Perry & Son, Richmond, will refund the money if it fails to give satisfaction.
